LUXE LIVING

Thanks to its exclusively curated pieces of indoor and outdoor furniture from around the world, New Delhi's IDUS is a one-stop design destination. At 40,000 square feet, the store is equipped with furniture catering to a range of modern aesthetics, like the 'Nelson' bed and 'Vietato' coffee table by Cattelan Italia (pictured). The bed can be crafted with either a Canaletto walnut or a burned oak frame. The headboard can be covered in different types of leather from the sample card provided. The handmade coffee table in Apuano marble and Petit granite works well as a sculptural element in your space. The table is part of a limited edition. (idus.in)

OPEN HOUSE

Gurgaon-based Mixx Windows introduces the Slim Series of aluminium sliding doors from Italian brand Metra. The windows are available in two- and three-track options with corner openings. The 'NC-S 120 STH Slim Line' sliding system adopts increasingly contemporary detailing and functionality. It is equipped with a central junction in a reduced size with multi-point locking systems and a glazing thickness between 26-42 mm. Along with air- and water-tight brush gaskets, the windows are designed to enhance interiors as well as exteriors. It is an ideal solution for those looking for maximum thermic and acoustic insulation without any architectural barriers. (mixxwindows.com)

TABLE MANNERS

Sunil Suresh, founder and CEO of Bengaluru-based Stanley Lifestyles, believes in showcasing modern India's prowess in creating world-class furniture using fine materials. For almost 20 years, this company has created original designs in contemporary and classical styles. The Stanley team has painstakingly sourced the best materials and tirelessly worked to present the Comfort collection. Part of this collection, the 'Astra' (below) and 'Derby' (bottom) coffee tables have black bevelled glass tops and Burma teak legs. The 'Astra' has a walnut surface finish while the 'Derby' is clad in vintage Birch leather. (lovestanley.com)
